For Your Information

SURVIVING THE BUSY SEASON

The seed analysts are busily planting, analyzing, and recording as quickly as possible. Do allow extra time for testing. Please contact the lab for an up-to-date testing schedule.

SAMPLE SUBMISSION

Sample Weight

How much seed should you send to the lab? Refer the the Dividing Weights Chart found at <https://agri.idaho.gov/main/laboratories/seed-lab/submitted-sample-weights/>. Avoid testing delays by sending in at least the minimum amount for your seed variety and tests requested. When submitting, also ensure that your samples are labeled with your company name, lot number and crop.

Examples:

Crop: Beans		Crop: Alfalfa
Germ:	175g	Germ:	1.25g
Purity:	500g	Purity:	50g
10% Extra:	67.5g	10% Extra:	5.2g
Total Weight:	742.5g	Total Weight:	56.5g

Sample Submission Form

Online sample entry not your jam? Utilize the fillable sample form found at <https://agri.idaho.gov/main/wp-content/uploads/2020/09/ADMINFRM1-Sample-Submission-Form.pdf>. Simply fill out, print and send with your samples.

DON'T SPILL YOUR BEANS

Securely package, seal, and add padding around your seed samples prior to shipping. Heavy duty zip lock bags work great and double wrap if in doubt or for larger samples.

GERMINATION DISCOUNT

March 1st – July 30th

Take advantage of our 20% off germination test discount for carryover seed inventory. Samples must be labeled as "carryover" for discount.
